About our office

We are a Berthoud-based estate planning law firm, and we are all parents with children at home. We are community-minded, and we have a true desire that no parent be faced with court proceedings to make medical or financial decisions for an 18+ child who has suffered an illness or injuries in an accident.

Whether you use our services or find other means, we believe all young adults should be informed about these legal consequences of turning 18+ years of age.

The protection and transfer of wealth can be complicated and difficult. We are dedicated to providing legally sound and practical guidance whether it be estate planning, the probate process or health care planning or navigating the Medicaid application process.
